

The Palm Beach Post

Monday, October 17, 2011

REAL NEWS STARTS HERE

Final edition | One dollar

10.17.2011

WHO'S WHO IN LOCAL BUSINESS

NEWSMAKERS

EDUCATION

Carolyn Kost has been appointed vice president for education and chief academic officer at Oxbridge Academy of the Palm Beaches, an independent college preparatory high school in West Palm Beach. Before joining Oxbridge, Kost was the library director at the Stevenson School in Pebble Beach, Calif.

HOSPITALITY

Anne Mahon-Bomser is the new director of northeast sales for PGA National Resort & Spa. Mahon-Bomser joins from Mandarin Hotel Group in New York City, where she worked as the senior sales manager, regional sales. She also worked in sales for Hilton and The Waldorf-Astoria.

MEDICAL

Tony Lodovico has been appointed Palm Beach Gardens Medical Center's new associate administrator, director of business development. Lodovico joins from Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corp. where he worked as associate director of business planning and strategy.

Sandra Mondro has joined the medical staff of Good Samaritan Medical Center in West Palm Beach as a radiologist and dedicated mammographer who specializes in patients experiencing pain, disease or dysfunction of the breast. Mondro will support and expand the range of services at the Good Samaritan's Women's Diagnostic Center.

NONPROFITS

Gulfstream Goodwill Industries Inc. announced that Brian Edwards has been hired to be vice president of marketing and development. Edwards joins from United Way of Palm Beach County.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

Heather Robbins has been appointed accounts coordinator and social media strategist for Seligman Brand Strategies, a public relations, marketing and digital media firm in Palm Beach Gardens. Robbins is part of a team that develops and implements integrated communications programs for four of their clients.

WHO'S WHO IN LOCAL BUSINESS

Lodovico

Tony Lodovico has been appointed Palm Beach Gardens Medical Center's new associate administrator, director of business development. Lodovico joins from Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corp. where he worked as associate director of business planning and strategy.